

MODEL PLAYERS: Fremantle Dockers Matthew Pavlich and Aaron Sandilands with their portraits to be auctioned on June 3.

Picture: IAN MUNRO

Dockers on the canvas

By MARIA NOAKES

FREMANTLE Dockers captain Matthew Pavlich and ruckman Aaron Sandilands got their gear off for portrait artist Megan Roodenrys to raise funds for their club.

Roodenrys's paintings Aaron at Leighton and After Morning

Training show the footy stars with their shirts off at Leighton and Cottesloe beaches.

Roodenrys said it was clear that the beach was an important place in both players' lives.

The paintings will be auctioned at Fremantle's Carlton Mid Gala Auction, supporting the club's community development program.

Roodenrys, an Archibald Prize finalist, has painted many elite athletes, including Ben Cousins.

Aside from the original paintings, Fremantle fans will have the opportunity to buy limited-edition prints through the club's team store.

The Carlton Mid Gala Dinner will be held at the Perth Convention Exhibition Centre on June 3.